WHAT ARE PROJECTS?

Projects are isolated environments inside the Fluix Admin Portal where each location or department manages its own:

- Workflows
- Forms
- Storage
- User groups

WHY USE PROJECTS?

Streamlined Admin Operations

Organize your Fluix account by region, department, job type, or asset category.

Transparent & Secure Data Management

Data submitted from the field is grouped by project, making insights easier to spot and reducing data exposure across teams.

Focused Experience for Field Teams

Teams see only the workflows and forms relevant to their location or activity — improving accuracy and reducing confusion.

Consistent Processes Everywhere

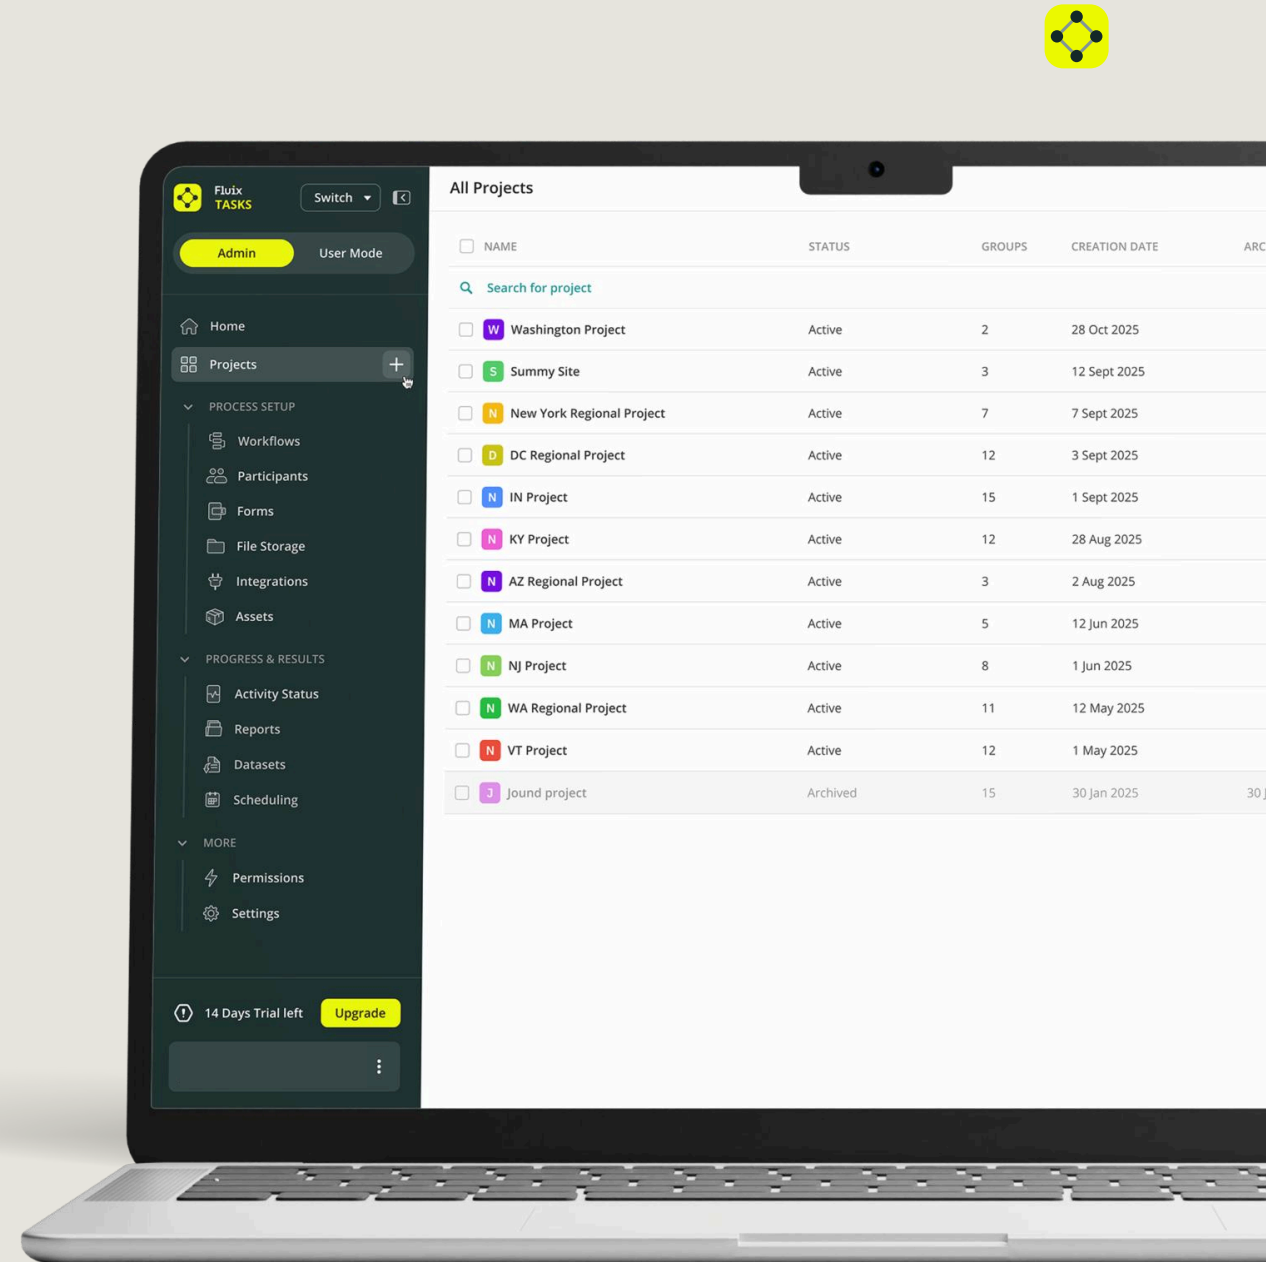

Create and approve workflows in the main Admin Portal, then reuse them as templates across all projects. This reduces the time required for project rollout and ensures consistent operational standards.

USE CASES

- Multi-site inspection and maintenance
- Region-based field service teams
- Client-specific project spaces in service organizations

Example:

An organization with 12 sites creates a Project for each location. Field teams work exclusively with site-specific forms, while Project Admins track inspections, identify trends, and generate reports using clean, filtered data per their assigned project.
